

NEW BENEFIT PLANS AVAILABLE!

- Every business is different
- Every employee is different and each has different needs

Some have pets, others have kids, some need help with budgeting and part-timers need access to basic health care. Many worry about their identity being stolen and others may be depressed and need to talk to someone.

As an HR professional, you listen to the needs of your employees and deploy benefits to meet those needs. Our agency offers more than insurance products. We are genuinely interested in providing as many unique benefit offerings to your employees as possible.

Review our new list of non-insurance benefit categories and let us know which ones interest you most. Offering non-insurance benefits are a great way to round out an existing health plan or offer benefits to employees who may not have access to these important categories. With the listings below, there is something for everyone.
